Discovering White Sands Cove

With an exquisite tropical ambience, combined with the amiable staff, and not to mention the superb meals, White Sands Cove is fast becoming one of Ambergris Caye's key attractions. Located just north of San Pedro Town, White Sands is a short 10-minute golf cart ride from San Pedro Town. With the roads leading the way to our destination, we hop on board a Moncho's four-seater golf cart and begin our trek. It is a lovely Sunday afternoon, and we are eagerly anticipating arriving at White Sands, ready to enjoy what may be in store for us...

Discovering White Sands Cove

After enjoying the sights along the way, White Sands' entrance beckons us to enter. The lush trees open up to a white sandy path leading us to the pool and bar. At the bar, we are welcomed by Doris; friendly, sociable and at one's beck and call, she makes it known that whatever our wish is, she will gladly turn it into a command. First some drinks to quench our thirst: a rum punch, a fruity rum shake that hit the spot. While we await our lunch, a dip in the pool is refreshing.

White Sands Cove has gladly opened its doors to families and friends who want to enjoy a day at the beach, at a pool and at a resort, away from the bustle of town. On this Sunday, we are pleased to find a family enjoying a special day at White Sands. The lovely staff catered their meal and Doris took time to decorate the pool area with blossoms, inviting everyone to have a wonderful time. As kids enjoy themselves in the glistening, cooling waters, parents, brothers, sisters, cousins and friends take time to chit chat about their lives and take pleasure in the company of one another.

Our appetizer arrives; Habanero Belizean Hot Wings! For wing enthusiasts and connoisseurs, White Sands Cove has fantastic wings, a perfect blend between spicy and sweet; these require no dipping sauce and melt in your mouth. One after another the wings disappeared and we knew our meal would be just as enticing. Glad to say, the kitchen staff at White Sands did not disappoint. Barbecue chicken and ribs never tasted the same. Finger licking can not even begin to describe the dishes placed before us. Again, the combination of the barbecue sauce with a smidge of sweetness really hit the spot. Served with Rice and Beans and potato salad, this meal is perfect for a day at the beach.

As we finish our meal, we decide that a nice walk down the beach should settle our stomachs and it certainly did. The Caribbean breezes beckon us to find a hammock and relax. Meeting up with guests, we come to find that they have thoroughly enjoyed their stay at the resort. How could one not? White sandy beaches, great meals and the tranquility that the resort offers, White Sands is definitely the place to unwind. As the sun sets, we realize relaxation has certainly hit us. We begin to get ready for what we have been told would be a fantastic dinner.

If you think lunch is great at White Sands, you have not had dinner there yet! A full menu calls for a decision and as we look at our choice we know this will be the hardest decision of our day. Everything on the menu looks great and everything we would love to have. We finally let Doris know our decision and Andy, our cook extraordinaire sets to prepare them. Andy has delighted tourists and locals with his fabulous cuisine for over four years. Cooking has always been a passion for him and he sets to show just that with every dish. Whatever the meal might be, Andy puts his heart and soul into it, incorporating Belizean spices and the tropical touch to every dish. Our meal begins with appetizers that just by the smell we know will be truly unbelievable. Jerk shrimp – succulent shrimp in a special Jerk sauce. Wow! Spicy! Hot! I want more!!! For those taste buds that can handle some heat, this is the perfect appetizer. Spicy but it burns so good. To counteract the spicy on the shrimp, the second appetizer is sweet and tangy – Mustard Chicken. Strips of chicken breast marinated in a mustard sauce, sweet to the palate but not overpowering to the taste. “Once you pop you can’t Stop” when you are eating these strips, one after the other, they are great and a perfect meal starter. Our third appetizer is a Belizean favorite with a new twist – Conch Soup. Tender bite size conch pieces are combined with vegetables in a creamy soup which has the added twist of containing a bit of coconut milk. The sweetness of the milk makes for a tropical taste to a Belizean favorite.

Our second course of the night was a bed of lush greens with colorful vegetables. Fresh and crisp we certainly get our veggie servings of the day; Chef Andy makes sure of this. As our meal transpires, conversations flow and both Doris and Marlon, our bartender, have island tales to tell. Their joy for life, great stories and contagious laughter make our meal even that much better. The ambience at White Sands for dinner is truly romantic with sheer drapes lining the cabana and a full moon sparkling on the Caribbean waters. With the candles’ glow, White Sands would be the perfect place to reconnect with that special person in your life.

Doris arrives once more with one plate on each hand and we know that our third course has arrived. Chef Andy follows closely behind with the third dish and inquires whether our meal has been to our liking so far. “Without a doubt,” we reply. We dig into the dishes placed before us; Coconut Curry Shrimp, T-bone steak in BBQ sauce and Garlic Fish. The Coconut Curry Shrimp is scrumptious to say the least and served with coconut white rice. The T-bone is tender and topped with sautéed onions and with a taste that will truly blow your mind.

Lime is tangy, creamy and sinful while the Oreo Cookie is a taste of delightful sweetness. Chef Andy has definitely incorporated his love into his profession and it shows when you have a wonderful meal at White Sands Cove.

The Garlic Fish is fresh, flaky and perfectly cooked; the garlic flavor truly stands out but it is not overwhelming.

Our tummies are now full but Doris reminds us that we have dessert coming and what a dessert it was! Key Lime Cheese Cake and Oreo Cookie Cheese-cake are both light and fluffy. The Key

Good

"You have to be at ABC Pre-school at 11:30 today," Dulce said.

"Why?"

"Because today is Grandparent's Day and Davin is your grandson."

"Wait a minute," I said. "Didn't I just go to Grandparent's Day just before Easter? I remember because Davin and I were sitting at a table with Dale Wallace and his granddaughter. We were cutting out paper rabbits and Easter eggs and Dale and I were dying for a cigarette."

"Well, it's Grandparent's Day for you again because Melody has to go to Belize City and someone has to pick up Davin when school is out. You got elected."

At 11:30 Davin separated himself from a mob of screaming three-year-olds and came running up to me.

"Grandpa, I'm hungry."

"O.K., boy. Let's go eat lunch."

"Come on," I told him, when we got our sandwich from Celi's Deli. "We'll go out on the deck and eat our lunch."

At the next table from us on the deck of the Holiday Hotel sat a lady who looked to be about nine and a half months pregnant. Davin could not keep his eyes off of her.

Finally, he said to her, "You have a big belly."

"Davin!" I said. "Don't say things like that."

"Oh, it's all right," the lady said, smiling.

"Why is your stomach so big?" he asked her.

"Because I'm having a baby."

"Is the baby in your stomach?"

"He certainly is."

Davin thought about that for a moment and then asked, "Is it a good baby?"

"Oh, yes," the lady said. "It's a real good baby."

Davin looked surprised and shocked.

"Then why did you eat him?"
